

How does the Bee work in this galaxy?

The Spelling Bee Emperor (moderator) will call a word, read a definition and use the word in a sentence. Your four-person team decides on the spelling and writes it on a sheet of paper. A judge determines if the word is spelled correctly. As long as your team spells correctly, you're in the Bee. If you miss a word, you can buy it and still stay in the contest.

Will you "bee" embarrassed if you can't spell?

Of course not, and you won't be struck down by force lightning either! Spelling is done as a team, not as individuals, so there's no chance of embarrassment. Plus, up until the elimination round, if your team cannot spell a word, you can "buy" it. Words can be pre-purchased or bought during the bee for $25 each to keep you in the game.

Who can "bee" in your squadron?

No Padawans please! Any four adults (16 years or older) can represent your business, organization, or school.

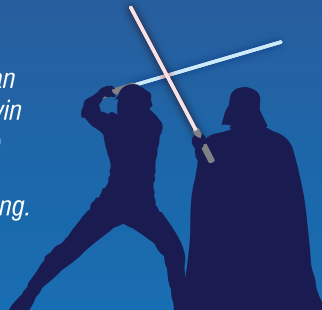

What will "bee" in it for you?

Fun competition! Lots of laughs! Door prizes! Trophies! Bragging rights! Awards to the teams with the Best Theme Costumes, Best Table Decorations and Most Spirit!

Who will "bee" helped?

Your tax-deductible contribution will enable WEP to provide programs for students and recognition and supplemental resources for our public school educators.

Did you know? The famous line "Luke, I am your father!" was written in the script as "Luke, Obi-Wan killed your father!" Only George Lucas (Writer), Irvin Kershner (Director), Mark Hamill (Luke Skywalker) and James Earl Jones (The Voice of Darth Vader) knew the truth about their relationship during filming.*
